THE DUKE'S PLAN

Love laughs at locksmiths, surmounts obstacles, derides opposition, braves dangers pulse in unison. Such is the theme of this beautiful Biograph story.

C. WM. BEALS POSTMASTER

Gettysburg Postmastership Decided
when C. William Beals is Appointed and Name Sent to Senate for Confirmation. Many Applicants.

The appointment of C. William Beals as postmaster at Gettysburg
was sent to the Senate late Friday afternoon for confirmation.

For some months past the question of the postmastership at this place has been one of the principal topics of interest and conversation and as the time grew near for the selection to be made developments were most keenly awaited. Early in the game there were a half a dozen or more applicants for the position but a number of these dropped out towards the last so that the selection narrowed down to a very few.

Mr. Beals will enter upon his duties as postmaster about April first,
the beginning of the new quarter. His business success and his uniform courtesy promise to the people of Gettysburg most satisfactory service.

WHITE CHURCH

White Church, March 5.—The following spent Friday evening at the home of W. J. Collins, Mr. and Mrs.
William J. Noel, of Littlestown. Mr.
and Mrs. C. E. Wolfe and son, Ralph,
Mr. Witherow and Mr. Shryock.

The representative of the Bell Telephone Company met a full house on Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. C. Wolford. Quite a number of the farmers and business men were present who contemplate building a line of their own.

Dock Shryock and Lincoln Witherow have just finished drilling a well for W. J. Collins. They struck a strong flow of water at the depth of 107 feet.

Mr. and Mrs. George Little and children spent Wednesday in Gettysburg.

Miss Ethel Wolford, of Biglerville, and Mrs. Lina, of Carlisle, who were visiting Miss Wolford, of that place, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Wolford.

THE HIGH ROLLERS

There is a big demand for seats for Walter's Theatre for one night, March 8, when the High Rollers Company

city. The name of Sam T. Jack is a guarantee of excellence, for the company is sure to be composed of the best talent in the field, arrayed with lavish costuming. The company this season is stronger than ever, with a remarkable olio, up-to-date burlesques, a splendid singing and dancing chorus,
and many novelties in song and dancing.

WILL NOT CONTEST

At an adjourned meeting of the Town Council held on Friday evening
it was decided that the suit against the American Union Telephone Com-

lost by the borough should not be contested further. In the future poles will be taxed ten cents per annum.

Didn't Mean That.

"These," said the lecturer, indicating them with his pointer, "are the movable bath houses. Thousands of people congregate here during the summer season. Over here on the left is the hotel at which I stopped, and an exceedingly homelike place it is. I shall give you a nearer view of it presently. Although I was there a week or two and would gladly have remained longer if I could have spared
the time, I did not take any baths
for the reason—

[Loud and prolonged laughter.]
"I meant, ladies and gentlemen," he resumed after the merriment had subsided, "that I didn't take any baths down at the beach. This audience is altogether too smart."—Baltimore American.

$300 WORTH OF JEWELRY TAKEN

Home of Lewis Weigand on Baltimore Street Entered during Early Evening Hours and Much Jewelry is Secured.

The home of Louis Weigand on Baltimore street was entered on Friday evening between 6.15 and 8.00 o'clock and jewelry amounting to between $300 and $400 taken. The theft was evidently committed by some one thoroughly familiar with the place.

The burglar before entering the house investigated to see whether there was any one about, for there are foot prints in the yard showing where some stranger was walking. The prints show that the man wore a number nine shoe. After seeing that the rear door was locked he tried the front door and finding no key in the lock had no trouble in inserting his own and gaining entrance.

The party took good care to prevent being caught for he unlocked the rear door and saw that a passage way from the upstairs was left open. All the work was done in Mr. and Mrs. Wei-gand's bedroom and had any one come into the house from either front or rear, he could have escaped with little difficulty.

Everything taken was in the one
room with the exception of a dollar,
removed from a purse on the sideboard
in the dining room through which the burglar passed on his way to open the rear door. In the bed room things were thrown about in great confusion.

A jewelry case belonging to Miss Weigand was found and from it were taken the following, karat and a half solitaire diamond ring, Tiffany setting, ring with five small diamonds in shape of a cross, ring with setting of two opals, ring with emerald setting and engraved on the inside of the band "L. W. to L. C. E."

Mr. Weigand's jewel case was on the top of the bureau and from it were taken two pairs of cuff buttons, the one with a dark stone, and the other with a design of a lighthouse, a "W"
initial ring set with three diamonds,
set of studs, ring with a plain black setting. The only other things taken were a shirt and a box of stockings belonging to Mr. Weigand.

The discovery of the theft was made when Mrs. Weigand returned home about eight o'clock. She thought it strange that the front door was open and upon investigating found things in the bedroom in great disorder. The bureau drawers had been emptied and their contents thrown recklessly about,
so that the room presented quite a sorry appearance. Realizing what had happened Mrs. Weigand at once summoned neighbors and Officer Wilson was sent for and an investigation made.

The manner of gaining entrance,
the fact that the thief evidently knew where everything was kept, and the method of working showed plainly that the burglary was committed by some one familiar with the place.
Coupled with these indications is the fact that the small dog in the Weigand home, which protests vigorously when strangers are about, made almost no noise all evening, according to the statements of neighbors, and the party who visited the home apparently knew how to deal with the animal.

BUCHANAN VALLEY

Buchanan Valley, March 5.—George Spangler and his agent, U. B. Miller, of Gettysburg, were in the Valley on last Thursday in the interest of sewing machines.

George McKenrick will move down to the home of his mother near Gettysburg next week.

George Irwin, having purchased the William Taylor place in the Valley,
will move there this Spring.

The ice is gone and we are again
walking on "terra firma" and right glad we are, as walking for some months past, was quite dangerous, and traveling over the hills in vehicles was also dangerous, requiring rough shod horses.

Those Misses Knouse, of York, are at home with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Knouse for a short visit.

Miss Ethel Cole spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Cole last week.

Mrs. Merl Miller, of McKnight's
town, was the guest of her sister, Mrs.
Francis Kimple, recently.

Miss Ellen Irwin has returned from a visit to Carlisle, Harrisburg, York and Spring Grove.

March "came in like a lamb" but we hope it won't "go out like a lion."

The weather is very fine and warm.

on Friday. Everything sold well and considerable interest was manifested,

three years, sold for $192; black horse $181; and a gray colt, coming three

COMING

The attraction at Walter's Theatre
Tuesday evening, March 8, will be the High Rollers Company, which is undoubtedly without a rival in extravaganzas or burlesques. This season, the management instructed its representatives to get the best people in burlesque and vaudeville, regardless of expense, to give customers full sway
in the matter of the gowns and dresses, and to get a chorus of the prettiest women in the theatrical field. Novelties from Europe have been secured for the olio, and nothing has been left gest of this season.

satisfactory to those who were at the play.

STATE SENATOR HAS SMALL POX

State Senator McIntire, an Adams
County Native, Victim of Disease
which is Alarming West Virginia Town.

State Senator Norman McIntire, of West Virginia, who is ill with small pox at his home in Berkeley Springs and under quarantine, is a native of Adams county. That place has been having quite a time with the disease
though claims are made that the news has been greatly exaggerated.

The Martinsburg Evening Journal
of Thursday says:

The residents of Berkeley Springs
insist that Marylanders are needlessly alarmed over the alleged smallpox epidemic, and that the town is doing everything to prevent the spread of the malady said to be smallpox and with which three persons so far have been afflicted.

The report that Maryland physicians were not allowed to enter some of the residences had its foundation on a fact that does not speak well for the precautions these medical men should have taken, had the disease been so prevalent as they would have believed.

It is granted that Senator McIntire had the disease. The physicians visited the senator's home and then went to another residence where a member of the family was sick, but not, it is claimed with smallpox. The father naturally declined to allow the Maryland doctors to enter unless they changed their clothes, worn while examining Senator McIntire. The father contended the medical visitors might communicate the disease to his family.

Senator McIntire is rapidly improving. Wednesday he waved his hand to friends from the porch of his residence.

LEOPOLD'S FORTUNE CAUSES DISSENSIONS

Say King Was $6,000,000 Short in Congo Funds

Brussels, March 5.—The Gazette publishes a letter from the lawyers of Princess Louise, eldest daughter of the late King Leopold, in which they say that the princess finds it difficult to entertain the idea that her father, mistaking the extent of his rights, had disposed of property belonging to the nation to the benefit of a third party. Should the supposition prove true, the lawyers say the princess will give way and avoid a conflict. For the moment, however, she could only adhere to the decision reached by her sisters, the Princesses Stephanie and Clementine. Princess Louise asked the government to inform them as to what property they were entitled to succeed to and to which the rights of the state did not appear to be established.

There was a warm debate in the Belgian chamber of deputies over an alleged shortage of $6,000,000 in the Congo funds, which it was charged by M. Van Der Velde, a Socialist member, the late king had taken for his own use. Part of this money, it was charged, went to the support of the Baroness Vaughan, who is the "third party" referred to by Princess Louise. Two members of the cabinet admitted that Congo bonds had been found among the appurtenances of royal foundations, and they believed these ought to be transferred to the state. The Liberal leader in the chamber also made charges that King Leopold had taken 30,000,000 francs from the Congo treasury, and asked if it had gone to furnish the extraordinary luxuries at Ballincourt, the residence of Baroness Vaughan.

CONGRESSMEN THREATENED

Several Get Letters Saying Their Homes Will Be Dynamited.

Washington, March 5.—Several members of congress received letters threatening them and their property with dynamite. The letter is signed "The Committee," and bears the postmark of the new Inley Park station, Chicago. The letters are all alike.

"The Committee" calls the members' "attention to the fact that the prices of the necessities of life are beyond the reach of those who are compelled to labor for a living," and adds: "You are also aware that this state of affairs was brought on by the trusts and the illegal combinations. As you are aware, these can only exist in this country through the legislation of congress and through the governors of states. Every man sent to congress or elected to high offices is paid by the trusts and corporations to do their will, and the amount of money they get from the trusts is much greater than the salaries they earn, and the people would be much better off if they had no representatives in congress at all. What have you ever done for the great mass of people? Do you ever think of the good you could do for the people if you would legislate for them instead of for the trusts and the corporations?"

The letter concludes as follows: "Dynamite will be your portion if you do not get busy for the people, and if you would save your life and property you had better pay some attention to this gentle reminder of your duty. Your homes will be dynamited if you do not heed this warning."

Hog Prices Hold.

Chicago, March 5.—Hogs sold at $10 again, and sheep, which Thursday set a record price, jumped 10 cents more, reaching $8.20. A possibility of a further rise in the price was evident when the department of commerce and labor issued a monthly statement showing a large decrease in live stock receipts.

Sold Whisky in Dry County; Jailed.
Dover, Del., March 5.—Dr. William T. Ryan was sent to the Greenbank workhouse for five months and fined $100 for selling whisky in "dry" Kent county. Dr. Ryan is the second white man sent to prison since the enactment of prohibition.

PINCHOT QUIZZED FOR FRAUD PROOF

Ballinger's Lawyer Demands First Hand Information.

HE DISTRUSTED SECRETARY

Admits the Only Knowledge He Had at First Hand is Limited to Writings That Are Now Disputed.

Washington, March 5.—The cross-examination of Gifford Pinchot proceeded slowly before the congressional investigating committee. Mr. Vertrees, counsel for Secretary Ballinger, said to him:

"Please state one single fact of your own knowledge that reflects upon Mr. Ballinger's conduct either as commissioner of the land office or secretary of the interior—not hearsay, not what somebody else said or wrote—of your own knowledge."

Witness hesitated, but after reading over a list he had, said:

"The fact of my own knowledge is Mr. Ballinger's letter to the president of Nov. 15, with which he inclosed the Ronald letter. These letters contain misstatements which I have already shown and am prepared further to show."

Pressed to state further what he personally knew Ballinger said or did, Pinchot said he had never discussed the Cunningham case with Ballinger. The only knowledge he had at first hand is limited to writings that are now disputed.

Witness said that up to the time he sent Glavis to President Taft relations between himself and Mr. Ballinger had been "fairly friendly, not more than that."

He Distrusted Ballinger.

Pinchot said he was not unfriendly to Ballinger, but he distrusted him—his policies, what he would do.

Here Mr. Vertrees asked whether, after "all the statements you made to the committee when you took the stand," all he could cite against Ballinger's own knowledge is that letter of Nov. 15.

"I said I expected to prove some of the things I charged by other witnesses," was the reply.

Referring to his testimony that Mr. Ballinger as commissioner of the land office protested against the creation of the Chugach forest in Alaska, in which some of the Cunningham claims are located, Mr. Pinchot said he had never read Mr. Ballinger's letter of protest and did not know what reasons he gave.

Had No Chance to Read Letter.

Asked if he didn't think it only fair to have read it before submitting it here with the inferences that might be drawn from his testimony, said his knowledge of Mr. Ballinger's position was based on an interview with him in Mr. Garfield's office.

He understood it to be hostile to what has since come to be called conservation.

By request, Pinchot read the letter and said that in his judgment it indicated hostility to the general policy of conservation.

He was asked to point out a single statement to that effect and replied that it was impossible to make judgment on a single statement. The whole thing had to be taken together.

Water Power Site Withdrawals.

Witness was asked if it was not known when Mr. Garfield withdrew the large tracts of lands for water power sites that nine-tenths of lands so withdrawn were not needed and would have to be restored.

Mr. Pinchot said he did not know the exact figures. He would not admit that the withdrawals were more than necessary, however.

Witness frankly said it had been his policy to withdraw lands for forest ranger stations when they were not needed to protect possible power sites.

"So that was your policy and Secretary Garfield's?"

"Yes, and President Roosevelt's and Secretary Wilson's."

MINE'S DEAD FOUND

Sixty-one More Bodies Recovered In Workings at Cherry.

Cherry, Ill., March 5.—The ill-fated Cherry mine has given up sixty-one more victims. The bodies were found huddled together in the north entrance of the St. Paul mine by Mine Inspector Richard Newsam.

Mr. Newsam came to Cherry to relieve Inspector Moses, who had been forced to return home on account of illness. On the first trip through the north entrance Mr. Newsam discovered the bodies.

The inspector explains that the bodies are in a mummified state and that there is hardly a chance that any one can be identified. He believes that as soon as the debris and wreckage can be removed from the north and east entrances all the bodies easily can be recovered.

He said that deer farming could be carried on profitably in any part of the United States.

BOY'S DESPERATE FIGHT WITH BULLDOG

Was Terribly Bitten Saving Baby Sister From Attack.

Mount Vernon, N. Y., March 5.—Willie, the eleven-year-old son of William J. Dalzell, proved himself a hero when, at the risk of his own life, he saved his baby sister from attack by a vicious bulldog. He was terribly bitten about the arms and legs.

The baby was being drawn about the yard by her brother in a toy express wagon, when the bulldog made a leap for the infant.

Willie seized the dog by the head and tried to drag him away. The animal sank his teeth in the boy's arm and then threw him to the ground. Then the beast literally chewed off all the flesh from both of the boy's hands, while his lower limbs were badly lacerated.

Despite his wounds the lad clung to the dog to prevent him attacking his sister, until some men, attracted by his cries, came running to the scene armed with crowbars and managed to knock the dog insensible. Willie said to his rescuers: "Never mind me; get me little sister out of the yard first."

The dog was shot and an examination will be made of the head to see whether the brute was suffering from rabies.

BIG ALIMONY FOR MRS. ASTOR

Final Divorce Decree Gives Her $10,000,000 Annually.

ALSO $300,000 A YEAR

Wife Receives the Sum She Asked For, Which Marks a New Record in Divorce Settlements—Colonel Astor Cannot Legally Marry in New York.

New York, March 5.—The final decree granting an absolute divorce to Mrs. Ava Willing Astor from Colonel John Jacob Astor was signed by Justice Isaac N. Mills, in the supreme court at White Plains. It is reported upon what appears to be reliable authority that the decree carries an agreement by which Colonel Astor pays his former wife $200,000 a year income and $10,000,000 in cash or securities in a lump sum.

In signing the final decree Justice Mills announced that he would instruct the clerk of Dutchess county not to seal the papers.

The settlement of $10,000,000, it was said, was made some time ago. All money at $200,000 a year, or close to $900 a day, sets a new mark in divorce settlements in this or any other country.

Whether or not Colonel Astor made any specific settlement upon his daughter, who is now in the custody of her mother, could not be learned. There appears to be no disposition to doubt that Mrs. Astor will get $300,000 a year from her husband as long as she lives. It is believed that she asked for this sum and that the delay in asking for confirmation of the decree was due to some dispute about the amount to be paid.

Secrecy at Beginning.
The interlocutory decree was granted with great secrecy by Justice Mills at New York, in Rockland county, on Nov. 8, 1909. Colonel Astor was at that time cruising in the West Indies on his yacht. A few days after the decree was signed Mrs. Astor sailed for Europe. It was feared that Colonel Astor had been lost in a hurricane which swept over the West Indies before his wife sailed, but the fear was unfounded.

While the interlocutory decree was signed on Nov. 8, it was not filed in the office of the county clerk of Dutchess county at Poughkeepsie until Nov. 10. The code provides that three months must elapse before a final decree can be granted.

The three months in the Astor case expired on Feb. 10 last. Instead of applying for a final decree counsel asked for an extension of thirty days. This move gave rise to foolish rumors that Colonel Astor and his wife had been reconciled.

Final Decree in a Hurry.
Counsel for Mrs. Astor served notice a few days ago that an application for a final decree would be made to Justice Mills on March 4. Hugh Bayne, of Mrs. Astor's counsel, and Commodore Lewis Cass Ledyard, representing Colonel Astor, were in court ready to carry out the necessary legal formalities.

As soon as the decree was signed, Lawyer Bayne started for Poughkeepsie. While the final decree is not to be sealed the interlocutory decree and the evidence were sealed at New York. The final decree is simply a form of law granting Mrs. Astor her divorce.

By the terms of the decree, as is usual in all cases, she is allowed to resume her maiden name should she so desire. Also, she is permitted to marry again, but Colonel Astor may not legally marry again in this state, this being the usual provision.

Mrs. Astor is given the custody of her daughter, Alice Muriel, while Colonel Astor has the custody of his son, Vincent.

SYMPATHY IS ON IN STRIKE QUAKER CITY

40,000 Union Men Back Up Carmen.

OUTLOOK IS OMINOUS

Disorder Breaks Out Early and Man is Fatally Injured.

UNIONS FIGHT FOR LIFE

Aided by Police Attempt Will Be Made to Smash Them.

Philadelphia, March 5.—The general strike in sympathy with the carmen is on. Notwithstanding the denial of Director of Public Safety Clay it is known orders have been issued to the National Guard to hold themselves in readiness to move on Philadelphia.

Fully 40,000 men came out, and it is said that by Monday this number will be increased to 70,000. Many shops and factories are closed, some of them suspending agreements with the men until the strike is over. Thousands of non-union men joined the walk out, and it is predicted thousands of others will do likewise on Monday.

The outlook is ominous even to the most cheerful observers. So much bitterness has developed in the past few days that the people of Philadelphia are preparing for any kind of trouble. An hour's walk in sections of the city, such as Kensington, where the feeling against the Rapid Transit company is most intense, is sufficient for anyone to understand what is smoldering. Kensington, where two-thirds of the union men live, will be the seat of trouble. The streets are crowded with strikers and their hangers-on. They spend part of their time in the corner saloons, the other part in standing on the street corners and cursing the non-union car crews.

The first disorder of the day took place in Frankford and Kensington. The Rapid Transit company, which had run more than 1000 cars in the daytime, kept over 600 in service up to midnight. A dozen cars were stoned. Half a dozen persons were struck and injured. A man named William Drexler, while resisting a policeman, was shot in the stomach and probably fatally hurt. Crowds persisted in forming on the streets in these sections and were broken up with difficulty. The attitude of the crowds was ugly and vicious.

The police are preparing for a riot at the very outset. The committee of ten of the Central labor union issued a call to all union men to assemble for a peaceable demonstration at 3 o'clock this afternoon in Independence Square. The committee counts on 25,000 men to attend the meeting. Henry Clay, director of public safety, has forbidden the meeting. He said that there would be 1000 policemen in Independence Square, and that these men would have orders to club the heads off any men who attempted to gather in the square. Clay was angry and emphatic. He said that if there had to be a showdown it might as well come quick.

The Central Labor union committee declined to rescind the order for a meeting. The order stands. It remains to be seen, merely, how many strikers will drift to the neighborhood of Independence Hall and how far the police will go in handling them.

The labor leaders spread the promise that no union man would throw a brick or participate in any resistance to the police or the military. The promise was accepted for just what it is worth. With 40,000 men idle and sore because they were drawn into a general strike, no one supposes that the leaders can keep the peace. If any one had confidence in the police force the prospect would not be so unpleasant. But nobody has, not even the commanders. Rioters have taken the policemen of the city by the scruff of the neck and wiped up the back streets with them.

Boycotting Merchants.

The labor leaders have evolved the boycott plan to beat the Rapid Transit company into submission. They have organized a boycott that will be directed against every department store, every neighborhood store, every saloon, every market. In fact, where necessities and luxuries are sold. The plan was quietly formulated and secretly put into effect. Storekeepers have been notified that if they sell a pound of butter or a nickel's worth of cheese to any one in sympathy with the Rapid Transit company they will not get a cent's worth of patronage from any union labor family in the city. They have been told that if they or their clerks ride on the cars the same threat will be made good. It is interesting to know that the select and common councilmen have been bluffed already by the boycott threat.

The city fathers do not ride down town on the trolley cars. Painful as it may be, they come in carriages or taxicabs. Some of them were asked about it. They said that they did not desire to anger their constituents. Shopkeepers are already complaining mournfully that the boycott has diverted business. They wonder what will happen in the next week or two.

To Beat or Bust the Company.

The intent of the unions is as plain as a brick wall. They happen to know that the Philadelphia Rapid Transit company has the only property it actually owns bonded up to the limit and that the company would have to scratch hard to borrow another dollar. They know that the company has lost already upwards of $700,000 in the strike, and they think they can drive the company to the point where receivers will have to take hold of it. The strikers have the advantage of knowing that the company is none too well fortified financially, and they have determined to beat or bust the Rapid Transit company.

The general strike was called after the directors of the Rapid Transit company had met and turned down the proposal for arbitration that had been made to them on Thursday night. This proposal was that the company and the union make a joint application, under the provisions of the act of 1893, to have the courts appoint a board of arbitration. Mayor Reuburn, who proposed this means to councils on Thursday, voted against it when he met with the Rapid Transit directors. His attitude was scored by Clarence O. Pratt, leader of the striking carmen. Pratt said the mayor's nose was pointed two ways, and that his arbitration suggestion had been made obviously because he knew that nothing possibly could come out of it.

So sure were some of the unions that the company would not give in that they went on strike Friday. Three hundred painters and helpers in the Pennsylvania railroad's Powelton avenue shops laid down their brushes. Some electrical workers, plumbers and boiler-makers quit before the strike whistle blew. The principal unions that obeyed the strike order were the Elevator Constructors, the Theater Stage Employees, the Plumbers' local, the Women's Amalgamated Lace Weavers, the Clothing Cutters, the Tile Layers, the Brewery Workers, the Cigar-makers, the Wood, Wire and Metal Lathers, the Fresco Painters, the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, the United Hatters, the Flint Glass Workers, the Plasterers and the Electrical Workers.

There is dissatisfaction in shops that are not unionized, like the Baldwin Locomotive works, the Cramps shipbuilding yard and several other large concerns. These plants expect to lose thousands of workers.

Unions Fighting For Life.

The struggle of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit company against the carmen's union has broadened into a fight between employers who insist on their right to run open shops and labor unionism. From now on the issue is the life or death of labor unionism in Philadelphia. Employers all over the country have recognized that fact, according to the Rapid Transit company. It was said that letters and telegrams have been received at the Rapid Transit company's offices from large employers of labor all over the country congratulating the company on its stand and offering financial aid.

The company itself says now that the issue is country-wide and that there is no longer any question of its differences with its former employees. Its policy of resistance has been successful in that it has aroused sympathy for its cause in many of the big cities. On the other hand the unions of Philadelphia are receiving enthusiastic telegrams from unions in most of the big cities. They are getting assurances right and left that sympathetic strikes will flare up all over the country if the strike here bids fair to last long.

WITHHOLD THEIR DEMANDS

Schwab Strikers Will Present Them Some Time Today.

South Bethlehem, Pa., March 5. — The arrival of more strike breakers, a statement by Mr. Schwab and a communication to Governor Stuart, sent by the strikers, were the developments in the situation at the Bethlehem steel plant. The strikers decided not to send their demands to Mr. Schwab until some time today.

Mr. Schwab put a quietus on rumors that the company was placing some of its contracts in Pittsburgh and elsewhere because of time limits set for doing the work. He said that such a step was not at all necessary, because all contracts taken by the company contained the invariable qualifying clause regarding the interference of strikes, fires, floods, earthquakes or other unpreventable causes.

The contract placed by the Argentine Republic for several million dollars' worth of armor steel also contains a strike clause, and it appears from the company's standpoint that instead of being hampered by the present situation, it is in many respects an advantage to be able, on this large contract and others recently received, to make use of this time to elaborate on many plans, drawings and many other preliminaries required for the actual work.

It is reported that 300 laborers as strike breakers arrived during the night and are quartered at the works. The steel company claims nearly 400 more men are at work on the day shift, with about half that number as the increase on the night shift.

HAPPY WOMEN

Plenty of Them in Gettysburg, and Good Reason for It.

Wouldn't any woman be happy. After years of backache suffering. Days of misery, nights of unrest. The distress of urinary troubles. She finds relief and cure? No reason why any Gettysburg reader should suffer in the face of evidence like this:

Mrs. C. W. Culp, 423 S. Washington Street, Gettysburg, Pa., says: "I have still greater faith in Doan's Kidney Pills today than when I publicly recommended them two years ago. I found them to be an excellent kidney medicine. A member of my family had kidney trouble, as the result of an attack of measles. Backache caused much suffering and there were pains in the side which made lifting an impossibility. The kidney secretions were also too frequent in passage. Doan's Kidney Pills were finally procured at the People's Drug Store and their use was followed by great relief. I advise anyone afflicted with kidney complaint to give Doan's Kidney Pills a trial."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

DOUBLE VISION.

It Affected the Oculist as Well as the Patient.

A well known oculist of New York city tells a story of one of his patients who proved rather more than a match for him. The patient was an old fellow from one of the rural counties of the state, fifty years of age or more, who strolled leisurely into the doctor's office and, after taking a mental inventory of the place, remarked that he was afraid that his eyes were "gitting a little out o' kilter" and he guessed the doctor had better "take a peek at them." He was seated and, as a preliminary, was invited to look through a prism at a photograph.

"Why, now," said he after "squinting" awhile, "this is curious! I see two photographs. What makes me see like that?"

The oculist, who is something of a humorist and inclined to be jocose with certain of his patients, replied that this phenomenon was certainly very interesting and that, while possibly it indicated some slight abnormality, it yet had its compensating advantages. "With double vision you have a great advantage over me, for example," he continued, smiling, "for you will be able to see twice as many beautiful things in the world as I can. You will have twice as many friends. Your family will be doubled. You will have twice as much real estate and two pocketbooks instead of one."

The old man did not say much in reply, but seemed to be pondering it. Meanwhile the oculist completed his examination, and the time came to receive his fee, which in this case was $10.

Very slowly the old man, still pondering, drew forth a roll of notes and, carefully selecting a five dollar bill, looked hard at it for some moments. Then, proffering it, he said quietly, "Here's your $10, doctor?"

Spoiled Her Play.

A very promising love affair, if not nipped in the bud, received an ugly jolt through the medium of that "infernal little brother" the other evening at the home of the young lady involved.

An informal card party was in progress, and a young fellow who had been very marked in his attentions to the daughter of the house had, for his partner, in the midst of the play "little brother" popped up with this query:

"M. Blank, does sister play cards well?"

"Yes, very well, indeed," replied the suitor.

"Well, then, you'd better look out," shouted the youngster, "because I heard mother say that if she played her cards well she would catch you yet."

The Summit of All Art.

The art of arts, the glory of expression and the sunshine of the light of letters is simplicity. Nothing is better than simplicity. Nothing can make up for excess or for the lack of definiteness.—Walt Whitman.

His Double Affliction.

In Paris there is blind man who carries a board bearing this singular sign: "Blind by Birth and by Accident."

"Look here, my good man," said a passerby: "your sign is positively distracting! Can you tell me how you come to be blind by birth and by accident at the same time?"

"Easy enough!" said the old man. "You see, I'm blind by birth myself, and I've bought out a blind man who did business at the other end of the bridge. He was blind by accident!"

MRS. G. DAVENPORT,
Roycefield, N. J.

The pains of rheumatism are almost invariably relieved with Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. They also overcome that nervous irritation which prevents sleep because they soothe the nerves. To chronic sufferers they are invaluable. When taken as directed, they relieve the distress and save the weakening influence of pain, which so frequently prostrates. Many sufferers use them whenever occasion requires with the greatest satisfaction, why not you? They do not derange the stomach nor create a habit. Why not try them? Get a package from your druggist. Take it according to directions, and if it does not benefit he will return your money.
